HONGKONG, MONDAY, AUGUST 13, 1900.

That the Chinese have been accustomed to perpetrate outrages on Europeans, who dwell within their borders, history proves but too conclusively. Moreover, it would appear that these outrages are more frequent now than they were thirty years ago. This is explained by the fact that there is an increase of foreigners in China. The same spirit animates the Chinese. We have hinted that the profound ignorance of the people is mainly responsible for this disgraceful state of affairs. No one, of course, will deny that there is race hatred. No one will contend that all Europeans have always carried on intercourse with the people in the best possible way. No one will deny that political reasons have also fomented the minds of the people. But when all this has been allowed for, the fact remains that the pure ignorance of the masses and the barbaric ignorance of the classes will have much to bear when the blame is laid out to the guilty. The people—the coolies, the boatpeople, the farmers and even the shop-keepers—are steeped in ignorance to a degree that is difficult to plumb. Some of them read a few characters in their youthful days, but all these are forgotten except the few they are accustomed to use in their very circumscribed business relationships. But though furnished with a few characters, they have no knowledge of geography, history, physics, or even religion. Their minds, therefore, are like an empty lumber room, ready to be filled with any lumber that may be thrown in. Such minds can easily be utilized in which to grow ideas that are base, and suspicions that are vile. The so-called educated Chinese have spent many years in committing to memory a string of hieroglyphs, which contain some sound ideas on morals, a few other utterly antiquated ideas in Government, and a few others dealing with the world outside of China, that are absolutely false. The literati have committed all these to memory, so that they can quote them at any time with accuracy, and their minds are so full of them that they cannot see and do not desire to see anything else. This class of society has managed to improve its personality on the uneducated so that it is looked up to with absolute respect. In a village, the man who can explain "words," though he has no practical business, is indeed the king of the village. Now, although the education which the classes receive does not furnish them with any substantial knowledge of the actual world, it infuses their minds with an inordinate admiration for their own ideal world, and factors a consequent and jealousy lest it should be in any way discredited by comparison with modern ideas. Moreover they perceive that the introduction of the new learning is a serious menace to their unchallenged position of unique influence. These three things—the ignorance of the masses, the influence of the classes, and the fear of the literati lest they should lose their great influence—will account for the riots that have occurred. It is a well known fact, that many of these outbreaks have been fomented and a fanned by the literati. These have circulated every kind of abominable scandal about Europeans, and have filled the minds of the masses with hideous suspicions. On the eve of the Tientsin rebellion an epidemic occurred in the establishment of the Sisters of Mercy, which proved especially fatal to the children. There has always been a superstition as to the Chinese belief in the evil influence of the literati, and in the habit of using the eyes and hearts of the masses for their own purposes, and the numerous deaths which occurred at the time led the ignorant townspeople to give credence to this folly. The literati created and fomented this terrible terror. When the outbreaks swept along the Yangtze valley, the filthy publications of Chao Han were the main cause of all that followed. It is needless to multiply examples. The facts are all too glaring. The people would in general be quite peaceable if the antiquated notions could be either substantially silenced or converted so as to accept the actual facts that confront them. The so-called educated hierarchy is composed of two classes. These are the Buddhist priests and the Confucianists. The Buddhist priesthood is no better, very inadequately furnished with knowledge, and very imperfectly educated in their own religion. Of course many of them are well read in their own books and know the literature of their own sect. In any final settlement of China they will have to be reckoned with. Ching Chih Tung, in his famous book, published two years ago, boldly urged the government, in order to secure funds for the endowment of colleges, in which Western learning should be taught, to suppress the entire system of monasteries. He said "Shut up the monasteries, confiscate the land, and turn out the priests to earn their own living." English history furnishes us with an example of a policy as high-handed. Chinese history will also supply precedents. On the whole, though it will need a strong hand to effect this, we believe the advice is good, and no real advance can be made in China until this useless and effete system of idleness, which does not to-day appear to offer one redeeming feature, is actively suppressed by the new government however constituted. To do this, with, at the time, no doubt, create a disturbance, and can only be effected by a strong will, but what the Viceroy has advocated, has much that can be said in its favour and can surely be done. The influence of the Confucianists is much greater than that of the Buddhists; but this influence would perceptibly wane, if some real knowledge could be imparted to the masses of the people. It would also be lessened if the people could be brought to believe that the knowledge of which the literati boast is antiquated and out of date. As we said above, the one thing to be aimed at is, that by comparison with a grander and truer conception of the universe, with wider and more fruitful fields of knowledge, with a more practical and useful course of instruction, and with a more reasonable and hopeful religion, we may prove to the people of China, that what they have been accustomed to reverence, is only, after all, a cumbersome thing, and that there is something better and in every way more worthy of their reverence within their reach. What would be most effective of all would be that the literati themselves accept the fuller and grander knowledge that is now within their reach. With minds thus enlightened, the old would pass away. With more correct views of the real state of things you believe in China, as elsewhere, riots would be a cause of regret, and not as now, a source of secret delight. How all this is to be done, and what difficulties are to be encountered, those who may yet themselves be the task will discover in the course of their efforts. We do not think the task an impossible one. We believe that were it attempted, it could be done, and that the victory, once won, would more than compensate for the outlay of time, thought, and energy.

A Parliamentary paper gives the estimated cost of the Hongkong Naval Dockyard Extension as £1,276,000, of which £46,516 was spent in 1899. The work, it is expected, will be completed in 1904 or 1905.
It is notified in the Gazette that the Sanitary Board at a meeting held on the 2nd instant declared the City of Victoria and those portions of the Kowloon Peninsula which were previously declared to be infected with Bubonic Plague to be no longer so infected.
A recent return from South Africa showed that amongst the convalescent officers who had returned to duty was Lieutenant E. F. Shewell, R.F.A. Mr. Shewell will be remembered in Hongkong as a clever amateur actor, his last public appearance on the eve of his departure to Africa, being as "the boy" in "The Magistrate."
Cheating the G.P.O.
Last night, Lance Sergeant Watt conducted in effecting the arrest of Au Chun Wan on board the Canton boat for having in his possession some six or seven letters which had not passed through the proper channel. A fine of $100, with alternative of two months' imprisonment, was indicated. The fine was paid.
Lamp Explosion.
A Chinaman, staying at 73 Queen's Road Central, met with rather a severe accident on Saturday night. He was found to enjoy a bath when it occurred to him that the lamp in the bath room was burning rather low. He stupidly attempted to fill it up with oil while the Wick was burning and the result was an explosion. The burning oil flew over his face and body, and he was severely scorched. He is now in hospital.

Appointments.
The following appointments are notified in the Gazette—Mr. J. Dyers Hall to be Acting Inspector of Schools during the absence of Mr. A. W. Brown; Mr. A. H. Hollingsworth to be Acting Executive Engineer, P.W.D., during the absence of Mr. J. E. Crook; Messrs H. W. Sudo and A. Byrre to be members of the Church Body in place of Messrs H. R. Harcourt and J. R. Crook, resigned. The appointment by Her Majesty the Queen of the Hon. J. J. Kewick to be Unofficial Member of the Executive Council of Hongkong is also notified in the Gazette.

Hard on the London Scottish.

The London Scottish (the 7th Middlesex Battalion of the Rifle Brigade), one of the best Volunteer Corps in England, appears to have had particularly hard measure at the hands of the War Office. With 138 members on active service in South Africa, it was fared impossible for them to put 60 per cent. of their remaining strength into camp for the manoeuvres, and so the War Office refused to give the expedition grant, and the Regiment will not go into training at all this year. Considering that they would be only about 70 short of the required number, the War Office might have set off the 138 at the front against this deficiency, and have relaxed its rule for once. The majority and big-headed policy of the authorities has resulted in the resignation of the Earl of Weezy, Honorary Colonel, and of Lieut. Colonel Barker, the Commandant.

Death of a Notable Police Officer.

On August 4, Captain Lora, one of the most distinguished officers of the Manila Civil Police Force, was fatally shot on the Calle Salcedo. Captain Lora had gone to the Libertad Theatre accompanied by a friend and his confidential orderly, and when returning home, after seeing his friend to his house, was shot from behind. The murderer escaped. So keenly was Captain Lora hated and so greatly was he feared, that only a week ago a meeting of the insurgent and bandit elements of Manila was held in Manila, to devise ways and means of putting him out of the way. At this meeting $2000 was offered to the man who was brave enough to sneak up behind Lora and fire the fatal shot, and though every man present signified his willingness to undertake the job, no definite appointment was made at that time. Everything possible is being done to bring the murderer to justice, and present indications point to early success. The government has offered a reward of $5000. The friend who was at the Theatre with Lora on the evening of the murder has been arrested on suspicion.

Major E. F. Little, R.E., Divisional Officer at Marryhill Barracks, Glasgow, has been ordered to embark at once for Hongkong.
A Parliamentary paper gives the estimated cost of the Hongkong Naval Dockyard Extension as £1,276,000, of which £46,516 was spent in 1899. The work, it is expected, will be completed in 1904 or 1905.
It is notified in the Gazette that the Sanitary Board at a meeting held on the 2nd instant declared the City of Victoria and those portions of the Kowloon Peninsula which were previously declared to be infected with Bubonic Plague to be no longer so infected.
A recent return from South Africa showed that amongst the convalescent officers who had returned to duty was Lieutenant E. F. Shewell, R.F.A. Mr. Shewell will be remembered in Hongkong as a clever amateur actor, his last public appearance on the eve of his departure to Africa, being as "the boy" in "The Magistrate."

Cheating the G.P.O.
Last night, Lance Sergeant Watt conducted in effecting the arrest of Au Chun Wan on board the Canton boat for having in his possession some six or seven letters which had not passed through the proper channel. A fine of $100, with alternative of two months' imprisonment, was indicated. The fine was paid.

Hard on the London Scottish.

The London Scottish (the 7th Middlesex Battalion of the Rifle Brigade), one of the best Volunteer Corps in England, appears to have had particularly hard measure at the hands of the War Office. With 138 members on active service in South Africa, it was fared impossible for them to put 60 per cent. of their remaining strength into camp for the manoeuvres, and so the War Office refused to give the expedition grant, and the Regiment will not go into training at all this year. Considering that they would be only about 70 short of the required number, the War Office might have set off the 138 at the front against this deficiency, and have relaxed its rule for once. The majority and big-headed policy of the authorities has resulted in the resignation of the Earl of Weezy, Honorary Colonel, and of Lieut. Colonel Barker, the Commandant.

Death of a Notable Police Officer.

On August 4, Captain Lora, one of the most distinguished officers of the Manila Civil Police Force, was fatally shot on the Calle Salcedo. Captain Lora had gone to the Libertad Theatre accompanied by a friend and his confidential orderly, and when returning home, after seeing his friend to his house, was shot from behind. The murderer escaped. So keenly was Captain Lora hated and so greatly was he feared, that only a week ago a meeting of the insurgent and bandit elements of Manila was held in Manila, to devise ways and means of putting him out of the way. At this meeting $2000 was offered to the man who was brave enough to sneak up behind Lora and fire the fatal shot, and though every man present signified his willingness to undertake the job, no definite appointment was made at that time. Everything possible is being done to bring the murderer to justice, and present indications point to early success. The government has offered a reward of $5000. The friend who was at the Theatre with Lora on the evening of the murder has been arrested on suspicion.

The American Consul had received word from the German saying that the Imperial Government had declined to send a message to the besieged Midway. On such messages be couched in plain prose without cipher. Since the dispatches of the 24th July, there is reason to hope nothing better is concealed in this fust, however unpleasant is its word. The Imperial Government is not lacking caution, as well as humane in its rage. I shall word from Tsing is ominous to that degree.

Legations Dispatched.

The following is a dispatch from Colman of the 26th of June (7 July) received here the 31st. It was from a resident in the British Legation, who under daily fire artillery, rifle and musket, was able to send a few successful rushes. Our losses 60 killed and 70 wounded. Their excess thousands.

IT SAVED HIS BABY.
MY baby was terribly sick with the cholera, when, we were unable to care with the doctor's assistance, and as resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, says Mr. J. H. Deak, of Williams, Ore. "I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a soon cure." For sale by All Dealers, Wm. S. Co., General Agents.

The Tide Table given below has been compiled by the Nautical Almanac in London from the result of the astronomical observations taken by means of the automatic tide-recording machine in the Port Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1887-8.

The zero of the table is Low Water Spring Tides, which has been found to be 2 feet below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 7 ft. and on the gauge at Lamport Aberdeen, add 12 ft. 9 in. to the given in the table.

I had severe attack of biliousness, took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and was cured. I was very much distressed. A. Power, of Ensigns, Kan. I ran bare across the street was sick for a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for four or five days with no relief. I then took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and gave him no relief, so discontinue it. I went over to see him this morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running so long that he had no control over them. He said if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, he said, "No." I went home and gave him my bottle and gave him one dose. He took it and was cured. I told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes and he was cured. I have never since had any more biliousness.

If you have a baby in the house you will wish to know the best way to check any unusual looseness of the bowels, or diarrhoea so common to small children. O. P. M. Halliday, of Dumfries, Edin., who has now eleven months' old child, says: "Through the months of June and July my baby was teething and took a running of the bowels and sickness of the stomach. His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once. FRENCH WOUNDED.

The Nagasaki Press of August 3rd, has the following:—As there is no French hospital in Japan, almost all the wounded or invalided French troops have been conveyed to Saigon for medical treatment. Through the courtesy of the Russian authorities, seventeen wounded French soldiers have been received at the best Russian Naval Hospital. The hospital, however, is unable to afford accommodation to other soldiers, as a large number of wounded and invalided Russians are expected here shortly from Taku and Port Arthur. In view of this and also of the inconvenience attending the transportation of wounded and invalided to Saigon, the French authorities have opened a temporary hospital in the local French convent, under the management of Dr. Distan. The 12 French wounded who were in the local Russian hospital and 24 others brought here from Taku by the cruiser Desaix, have been removed to the new French hospital. It is reported that preparations are now being made in the new institution for the reception of 40 other wounded, who are expected here in a few days from Taku.

JAPANESE COOLIES FOR CHINA.

Reported German Requirements.
It is reported that a German merchant at Shanghai has received a telegraphic order from the German War Office to engage 2,000 coolies for the German troops in North China, and in consequence has applied to the Yokohama Emigration Company, through Messrs Becker & Co., to supply the men. The Japanese Foreign Office is stated to be applying the provisions of the Emigrants' Protection Law in all cases of engagement of coolies for foreign troops. The terms of the contract under this law are that the wages of the coolies must be ¥1.50 each per day. In addition, not less than ¥700 must be paid to the family of a coolie killed in battle, and not less than ¥500 to those dying from sickness. To the wounded between ¥5 and ¥500 must be paid, exclusive of hospital expenses. The merchant is said to be hesitating to engage the coolies upon these terms, and the negotiations are progressing very slowly. The Japanese Company is reported by the Osaka Asahi, from which paper these particulars are gathered, to have sent a representative to the German Consul-General to inquire whether the merchant has a commission from the German Government to engage the coolies. — Kobe Chronicle.

Orders for Sandbags.

Orders have been received at Woolwich for 50,000 sandbags to be despatched to China. They will be filled with sand or earth, and used for the purpose of field fortification and for the protection of the infantry and guns when the advance is made in the autumn.

Britain's Force.

Orders, says the Standard, have been issued by the War Office to various Departments and to contractors to prepare for the despatch of nearly 40,000 men to China. South Africa has been butted out of this country, and there is a suggestion that more volunteers should be asked to go on active service, probably for the relief of the Regulars in South Africa.

An Incorrect Report.

The report that the Victoria, battleship, has been ordered to proceed from the Mediterranean to China is incorrect. This vessel remains with the rest of the squadron under the command of Vice-Admiral Sir John Fisher. The immediate need in the Far East is for cruisers and not for battleships, which are unable to navigate the inland waters of China.

News of the War.

It is suggested that, following the precedent set in the case of the war in South Africa, the Postmaster-General should with the assistance of the Admiralty, issue a Sunday telegram to the public, which should contain the kingdom when there is news from China.

A Japanese Gunboat Ashore.

The Japanese torpedo destroyer Niji (273 tons) has gone ashore near the Shanghai promontory.

The Russian Command.

General Leventich, Commander-in-Chief of the Russian army in Siberia, has arrived at Tientsin, and taken over the command of the Russian forces in North China.

Russian and Japanese Troops in Collision.

Major General Fukushima reports to the Japanese Government as follows:—Firing was accidentally exchanged between the Japanese and the Russian troops in the vicinity of Peking, the forces mistaking each other for the enemy. The firing has been settled satisfactorily, and there is no danger of the mistake again occurring. The Russian troops are now engaged with about 6,000 Chinese at Peking.

Drink!

The Kobe Chronicle says:—Apparently in view of the bad water in China, the troops at the front are to have liquid refreshment of another sort placed within their reach. Some 37,000 bottles of beer and mineral water were exported to the K. R. R. by the Yokohama on the 28th ult. Of these 24,000 were Kalu beer and 13,000 Hiranu mineral water.

H.M.S. "Arcturion."

H.M.S. Arcturion, from Esquimaux, has arrived at Taku. The Arcturion, which has till now been on the North Pacific station, is a steel cruiser of 4,300 tons displacement. Her armament consists of 10 6-in. q. r., 8 3-in., and 6 maxims. She has four torpedo tubes. Her speed is 16.5 knots and her complement 320.

Fochow News.

The Fochow Daily Echo, 4th August, contains the following items:—Fochow. We learn that there are beginning to make their appearance. There have been seen. One walked off with a dog from the farm below Mr. Popper's bungalow on Monday night, and it is reported that an old native woman was seized and carried off from a farm about two miles away on the Dong Ling road on Tuesday night. A white pig was taken to the Fochow Gun Club by Mr. Lee, who was won by Mr. J. C. Oswald, after shooting off two ties. A presentation was made on the 1st inst. by the Club to Mr. C. L. Howell in commemoration of his making the highest possible score in two Cup matches against Shanghai.

DEATH OF A CELEBRATED JUDGE.

Lord Russell of Killowen.

Reuter announces the death of Lord Russell, of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, G.C.M.G., LL.D., and D.L. for Surrey. The deceased Judge was born at Newry in 1833, and is the son of Mr. Arthur Russell, of Newry and Seaford House, Rossvore. He was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, and began his professional career by practicing as a solicitor in Belfast; but, coming to England, he was called to the Bar at Lincoln's Inn in 1859 and became Q.C., and was elected Member of Parliament in 1872. He entered Parliament in the Liberal interest as member for Dunfalk, which he represented from 1880 to 1885; and South Hants, 1885-86, when he became Attorney-General in the Gladstone Administration, and was knighted. His powerful and eloquent speech before the Parnell Commission was one of the most masterly orations of modern times. He was again appointed Attorney General in 1892. On taking office he gave up the old and well-used privilege of retaining his private practice, which had been a very large one, and had lately brought him in an income of upwards of twenty-five thousand a year.

In 1893 he was given the G.C.M.G. for his distinguished services as English counsel in connection with the United States Fisheries Arbitration in Paris. Both this arbitration and on the third reading of the Home Rule Bill in the House of Commons he delivered very eloquent and powerful speeches; but he was not, on the whole, so successful as a Parliamentary speaker as at the bar, though he was in constant request as an expert and disinterested adviser. On the death of Lord Bouverie in 1894 he was appointed a Lord of Appeal in Ordinary, and a life peerage was conferred on him. In July 1894, he was appointed Lord Chief Justice of England in succession to the late Lord Colclough. As a barrister, Lord Russell was long without a rival in the English Law Courts. He was a sound lawyer, a masterly and often terrible cross-examiner, and a persuasive and weighty pleader before juries, especially in capital or especially hopeless cases. The list of celebrated causes in which he has been engaged is a very long one. He represented Mr. Clement Scott in his action against the late Mr. Sampson, in the Chamber of Commerce. He represented the plaintiff in the famous Barbican case, in which the late Mr. Sampson was the defendant. He represented the plaintiff in the famous Barbican case, in which the late Mr. Sampson was the defendant. He represented the plaintiff in the famous Barbican case, in which the late Mr. Sampson was the defendant.
